

Colleagues,

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) will present a Regional Grant Application-Writing Workshop on February 22, 2019, on the campus of the University of Oklahoma in Norman, OK. The workshop is hosted by the OU Humanities Forum, directed by Dr. Janet Ward.

You are cordially invited to register for this opportunity by February 19, 2019.

The workshop (8:00am-12:00 noon, in the Scholars Room of the Oklahoma Memorial Union) will be led by Dr. Claudia Kinkela, NEH Senior Program Officer. Dr. Kinkela will also be available for a limited number of one-on-one, 15/20-minute consultations on the afternoon of Thursday, February 21, and on the afternoon of Friday, February 22. At time of workshop enrollment, participants may submit a 500-word project description and schedule a one-on-one appointment with Dr. Kinkela (please note, however, that the number of these consultations is limited).

In addition, NEH Chairman Dr. Jon Parrish Peede will give a public lecture at OU's Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art from 12:30-2:30pm on Friday, February 22.

The workshop will also include a mock NEH panel, during which several panelists—comprising scholars from different departments at the University of Oklahoma—will share their comments on sample grant proposals. Audience members may read the proposals in advance and will be invited to share their responses during the conversation. With the mock panel, we hope to demystify the evaluation process so that workshop participants understand how their applications will be reviewed and identify application-writing strategies that work and don't work.

The application can be found by following this link. Further information regarding the application and workshop schedule will be available at <http://www.ou.edu/humanitiesforum>. Please direct questions to humanities.forum@ou.edu or call 405-325-2002.
